

Raminder Singh Bajaj

His life...His Journey

Where it all began....Tea Gardens in Assam

Very much in love through the 50 years he spent with his loving wife

Priya was always Daddy's little girl....

...A little girl giggles when she is denied an ice-cream by her mother.
She knows daddy will get her some later...

Favorite vacation
spot by far...

First grandchild
(Rhea) who he spent a lot of time with,
especially in her early years..

Hugging nana on his 75th birthday

Giving Divya and I
some much-needed
advice after our phasas

Zubin was lucky enough to have spent three vacations with him. During the last one, Zubin's favorite thing was to lie down with dada and watch cartoons

Always ready to cheer-up the kids in the house after a tantrum play...

Quite a religious man in his own way – never missed out on visiting a Gurdwara in his travels, be it Bangkok or Vienna. And ever since I can remember, his birthday was always marked by a kirtan & ardaas

Favorite pet – his Black Panther

Was extremely fond of his in-laws and spent many evenings discussing Indian politics and family politics over a single malt and chicken curry

Dearly loved by family all around

A friendship that morphed into a bond that words cannot describe or do justice to – brothers
through thick & thin...

Koi Hai...

An everlasting bond
developed in Assam
which remained strong till the very end

Grand 75th attended by some of his closest friends & family

One of a kind sense of humor ...

From Bhangra to Merengue..He did it all

Only a very patient man will happily go wedding trousseau shopping with 3-women

He was the perfect match for mom – with tons of common loves & interests
- most importantly –
strawberry ice cream

You will be missed...
